Xavier Names New Director of Admissions

New Orleans LA – Dr. Monica Clayborne Scott has been named the new Director of Admissions at Xavier University of Louisiana, according to Vice President of Enrollment Management, Keyana Scales.

As Director of Admissions, Scott will be charged with providing daily leadership and supervision of staff in the Office of Admissions, developing and managing an aggressive recruitment program designed to attract and retain a diverse pool of freshman and transfer students from traditional and non-traditional markets, supervising all admissions procedures, and carrying out the academic policies of the institution.

As part of the Enrollment Management team, she will also assist in the development and implementation of a comprehensive model that supports retention and timely graduation.

"I am thrilled that Monica will be joining the Enrollment Management team," said Scales. "I am confident that her demonstrated leadership, communication style, strategic vision and her experience with facilitating organizational change will prove to be a strong asset to the Office of Admissions and to Xavier University of Louisiana."

She will assume her new duties Jan. 17.

Scott, whose career in higher education spans 10 years, comes to Xavier from Lane College in Jackson TN, where she was serving as Director of Admissions, Chair of the Enrollment Management Committee, and as Coordinator of the Presidential Leadership Scholarship Program.

She holds a Ph.D. in Educational Leadership from Union University, as well as a Master's degree in Business Administration from Bethel University and a Bachelor's degree in Interdisciplinary Studies from Lane College.
