If you want to have a productive but fun and enjoyable Saturday morning, enroll for the AP Physics preparation class at Xavier University. The program is a hands-on teaching and laboratory session led by faculty members of the Department of Physics here at Xavier University of Louisiana.

Saturday Morning Physics @ Xavier

Sept. 16, 2017 – Nov. 4, 2017

WHO CAN ATTEND?
Any high school student who plans to take AP Physics later or who just enjoys physics. (No previous physics experience is required)

Where?
Xavier University, Science building (NCF) Room 260

When?
First class starts on Saturday, 16 September 2017 from 10:00am to 12:00 noon.

Cost?
The program is sponsored by the Department of Physics and Computer Science and it is FREE for all participants

To register, send an email to physics@xula.edu

For Further Information Contact:
Dr. Anderson Sunda-Meya, 504-520-5107, asundame@xula.edu