

What is the CARE network?

The CARE Network is the interconnection between the CARE students, the CARE colleagues (peer mentors), and the CARE coaches (accountability agents). These connections make up the CARE network. The primary objective of the CARE network is to provide an infrastructure where CARE students can be supported across the four key areas of focus to foster student success.

A support network for first-generation students at Xavier University of Louisiana

About us

CARE is a program that supports first-generation students throughout their first year at Xavier by integrating the various support services at Xavier to provide critical information, guidance, and resources to our first-year, first-generation students. The CARE Program is built on four pillars that form the foundation for the holistic approach of the program: Career Readiness, Academic Efficacy, Resilience, and Engagement.

Who is considered first-generation?

Any student who has no parent or guardian who has earned a 4-year college (bachelor's) degree.

Benefits of the program

Dear Prospective CARE Student,

As you embark on a new pathway in your life, you are going to meet challenges along your journey. CARE is a source of support designed specifically to assist you in navigating your first year of college as a first-generation student at Xavier.

CARE can support you in reaching your goals by providing you with opportunities to prepare, progress, and perform in your career aspirations, academics, personal well-being, and your connection with your Xavier community. We look forward to welcoming you to the CARE family.

How does CARE work?

Upon admittance, students participate in the Student Strengths Inventory (SSI), which offers insights into their mindset on academics, resilience, and engagement. In their first year, CARE coaches collaborate with students to enhance their skills in areas identified as needing improvement based on the SSI results. Throughout the semester, students engage in a range of activities aligned with their personalized CARE plan.
